BettyAnne Gottlieb is Associate Professor of Music Education at the University of Cincinnati, College-Conservatory of Music (CCM) where she teaches courses focused on string pedagogy, teacher preparation, and technology integration. She has over 25 years of experience teaching in the public schools and university-affiliated music programs, and serves regularly as a guest clinician and adjudicator for regional, district and state string festivals. She has been an active orchestral musician and Suzuki teacher, and has held leadership positions in the American String Teachers Association, the Suzuki Association of the Americas, and the Ohio Music Education Association. Her current activities include forming and directing the Cincinnati New Horizons Orchestra. Dr. Gottlieb received her degrees from Case Western Reserve University where she had the opportunity to study at the Cleveland Institute of Music, Vander Cook College of Music, and Michigan State University.
